WARWICKSHIRE

WAR B1

In the Borough of WARWICK

the King has 113 houses in his lordship, and the King's barons have 112, from all of which the King has his tax.

WAR B2

The Bishop of Worcester has 9 messuages; the Bishop of Chester 7; the Abbot of Coventry 36; and 4 are waste, because of the castle site. The Bishop of Coutances has 1 house; the Count of Meulan 12 messuages. Earl Aubrey had 4, which belong to the land which he held; Hugh of Grandmesnil 4, and the monks of Pillerton [Priors] have 1 from him. Henry of Ferrers has 2, Harold [son of Earl Ralph] 2, Robert of Stafford 6, Roger of Ivry 2, Richard the hunter 1, Ralph of Limèsy 9, the Abbot of Malmesbury 1, William Bonvallet 1, William son of Corbucion 2, Geoffrey de Mandeville 1, Geoffrey of la Guerche 1, Gilbert of Ghent 2, Gilbert [of] Bouillè 1, Nicholas the bowman 1, Stephen the steersman 1, Thorkil [of Warwick] 4, Harold [son of Earl Ralph] 2, Osbern son of Richard 1, [Princess] Christina 1, the nun Leofeva 2. These messuages belong to the lands which these barons hold outside the Borough and are there valued.
[Warwick]

WAR B3

Besides the said messuages, there are 19 burgesses in this Borough who have 19 messuages, with full jurisdiction and all customary dues, and had them thus before 1066.
[Warwick]

WAR B4

Before 1066 the sherifffdom of Warwick, with the Borough and with the royal manors, paid £65 and 36 sesters of honey, or £24 8s for all [the dues] that belonged to the honey. Now the revenue of the royal manors and the pleas of the County between them pay £145 a year by weight, £23 for dog-custom, 20s for a packhorse, £10 for a hawk and 100s as a premium to the Queen.
[Warwick]

WAR B5

Besides this, it pays 24 sesters of honey, with the larger measure, and from the Borough 6 sesters of honey, that is, a sester at 15 pence. Of these, the Count of Meulan has 6 sesters and 5s.
[Warwick]

WAR B6

The custom of WARWICK was that when the King went on an expedition by land 10 burgesses of Warwick went for all the others; whoever was notified but did not go paid a fine of 100s to the King. But if the King went against his enemies by sea, they sent him either 4 boatmen or £4 of pence.

Before 1066 Brictwin held 7 1/2 hides in ALVESTON. Archbishop Aldred had the full jurisdiction of this land, and market rights and church-tax, and all other forfeitures except those four which the King has throughout his whole Kingdom. His sons Leofwin [uncle of Thorkil], Edmer and four others testify thereto, but they do not know from whom he held this land, whether from the church or from Earl Leofric, whom he served. They state however that they held it themselves from Earl Leofric, and could turn where they would with the land. Brictnoth and Alwy held the remaining 7 1/2 hides before 1066, but the County does not know from whom they held. Bishop Wulfstan however states that he established his claim to this land before Queen Matilda in the presence of the four Sherifffdoms, and he has King William's writ for it, and also the witness of the County of Warwick.

[C] [Customs]

SHR C1

[In SHREWSBURY Hundred]

In the City of SHREWSBURY there were 252 houses before 1066 and as many burgesses in these houses who paid £7 16s 8d a year in tribute. King Edward had the undermentioned customs there.

SHR C2

If anyone knowingly broke the King's peace as given by his own hand he was made an outlaw, but a man who broke the King's peace as given by the sheriff paid a fine of 100s. A man who committed highway robbery or house-breaking gave as much.
King Edward had these 3 forfeitures in his lordship in the whole of England in addition to the revenues.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C3

When the King stayed in this City, 12 of the better citizens protected him [by] keeping watch. Similarly when he went hunting there, the better burgesses who had horses guarded him with arms. The sheriff sent 36 men on foot to stall game for as long as the King was there. However, at Marsley park he found 36 men for 8 days as a customary due.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C4

When the sheriff wished to go into Wales a man, who after being summoned by him did not go, gave 40s in forfeiture.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C5

A woman who took a husband in any way, if she was a widow, gave 20s to the King; if a [single] girl, 10s, in whatever way she took a man.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C6

If any burgess' house burnt down through some accident, happening or carelessness, he gave 40s to the King in forfeiture and 2s to each of his two nearer neighbours.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C7

When a burgess who was in the King's lordship died, the King had 10s in death-duty.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C8

If any burgess broke the time-limit which the sheriff placed on him, he paid a fine of 10s.

[Shrewsbury]

SHR C9

A man who shed blood paid a fine of 40s.
[Shrewsbury]

SHR C10

When the King left the City, the sheriff sent him 24 horses from Leintwardine and the King took these as far as the first manor in Staffordshire.
[Shrewsbury]

SHR C11

The King had three moneyers there who after they had bought the money dies, like other moneyers in the country, each gave 20s to the King on the 15th day and this was done when the coinage was changed.
[Shrewsbury]

SHR C12

In total this City paid £30 a year. The King had two parts and the sheriff the third. In the year preceding this survey it paid £40 to Earl Roger.
[Shrewsbury]

SHR C13

This City paid tax for 100 hides before 1066. Of these, St Alkmund's [of Shrewsbury] had 2 hides, St Juliana's [of Shrewsbury] 1/2 hide, St Milburga's [of Much Wenlock] 1 hide, St Chad's [of Shrewsbury] 1 1/2 hides, St Mary's [of Shrewsbury] 1 virgate, the Bishop of Chester 1 hide and [Queen] Edith 3 hides which Ralph of Mortimer has.
[Shrewsbury]

SHR C14

The English burgesses of SHREWSBURY state that it is very hard on them that they pay as much tax as was paid before 1066, although the Earl's castle has taken over 51 messuages and 50 other messuages are unoccupied and 43 French burgesses hold messuages which paid tax before 1066 and the Earl has himself given to the Abbey, which he is building there, 39 burgesses who once paid tax likewise with the others. In total there are 200 messuages, less 7, which do not pay tax.

The City of CHESTER

paid tax on 50 hides before 1066. 3 1/2 hides which are outside the City, that is 1 1/2 hides beyond the bridge and 2 hides in

Newton and 'Redcliff' and in the Bishop's Borough, these paid tax with the City.

CHS C2

Before 1066 there were 431 houses in the City paying tax, and besides these the Bishop had 56 houses paying tax. This City then paid 10 1/2 silver marks; two parts were the King's, the third the Earl's.

[Chester]

CHS C3

These were the laws there.

If the peace given by the King's hand, or by his writ or his commissioner, were broken by anyone, the King had 100s thereby. But if the King's peace, given by the Earl or on his orders, were broken, the Earl had the third penny of the 100s which were given for it; and if the peace given by the King's reeve or the Earl's officer were broken, the fine was 40s and the third penny was the Earl's.

[Chester]

CHS C4

If a free man, breaking the peace given by the King, killed a man in a house, his land and all his goods were the King's, and he became an outlaw himself. The Earl had the same [right], but only over his own man who paid this penalty. But no one could restore peace to any outlaw except through the King.

[Chester]

CHS C5

Whoever shed blood between Monday morning and Saturday noon was fined 10s; but from Saturday noon to Monday morning the fine for bloodshed was 20s. Similarly, whoever did so in the Twelve Days of Christmas, on Candlemas Day, on the first day of Easter, on the first day of Whitsun, on Ascension Day, on the day of the Assumption or of the Nativity of St Mary, or on All Saints' Day, paid 20s.

[Chester]

CHS C6

Whoever killed a man on these holy days was fined £4; on other days, 40s. Similarly, whoever committed breaking and entering or highway robbery on these Holidays and on a Sunday paid out a fine of £4; on other days 40s.
[Chester]

CHS C7

Whoever committed collusion with a thief in the City gave up 10s; but if a reeve of the King or the Earl incurred this penalty, he paid 20s.
[Chester]

CHS C8

Whoever committed robbery or theft or did violence to a woman in a house was fined 40s for each of these [offences].
[Chester]

CHS C9

If a widow had intercourse with any one unlawfully, she was fined 20s, but a girl 10s for such an offence.
[Chester]

CHS C10

Whoever took possession of another's land in the City, and could not prove it to be his own, was fined 40s; likewise whoever made a claim thereto, if he could not prove that it should be his.
[Chester]

CHS C11

Whoever wished to enter possession of his own or his kinsman's land paid 10s. But if he could not or would not, the reeve received his land into the King's hands.
[Chester]

CHS C12

Whoever did not pay tribute at the due term was fined 10s.
[Chester]

CHS C13

If a fire burnt the City, the man from whose house it came was fined 3 {orae} of pence and gave 2s to his next door neighbour.
[Chester]

CHS C14

Two parts of all sums forfeit were the King's, the third part the Earl's.
[Chester]

CHS C15

If ships arrived at the City port or left port without the King's permission, the King and the Earl had 40s from each man in the ships.
[Chester]

CHS C16

If a ship arrived against the King's peace and despite his prohibition, the King and the Earl had both the ship itself and its crew, together with everything in it.
[Chester]

CHS C17

But if it came with the King's peace and permission, those in it sold what they had without interference. But when it left the King and the Earl had 4d from each cargo; if the King's reeve instructed those who had marten-skins not to sell to anyone until they were first shown to him and he had made his purchase, whoever did not observe this instruction was fined 40s.
[Chester]

CHS C18

Any man or woman who gave false measure in the City was fined 4s when caught; similarly anyone who made bad beer was either put in the dung-stool or paid 4s to the reeves. The officer of the King or the Earl received this fine in the City, on whoever's land it was, whether the Bishop's or any other man's. Similarly with the toll; if anyone withheld it for more than three nights, he was fined 40s.
<262d>

[Chester]

CHS C19

Before 1066 there were 7 moneyers in the City, who paid £7 to the King and the Earl, additional to the revenue, when the coinage was changed.

[Chester]

CHS C20

There were then 12 judges in the City; they were from the King's, the Bishop's and the Earl's men. If any of them stayed away from the Hundred on a day when it sat without plain excuse, he was fined 10s, [shared] between the King and the Earl.

[Chester]

CHS C21

For the repair of the city wall and the bridge, the reeve used to call out one man to come from each hide in the County. The lord of any man who did not come paid a fine of 40s to the King and the Earl. The fine was additional to the revenue.

[Chester]

CHS C22

This City then paid in revenue £45 and 3 timbers of marten-skins. The third part was the Earl's and two parts the King's.

[Chester]

List 2

[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]

CHS S1,1

S1 [{WARMUNDESTROU}]

In {WARMUNDESTROU} Hundred

Before 1066 there was a {wich} [NANTWICH], where there was a salt-pit and 8 salt-houses, divided between the King and Earl Edwin, so that the King had two parts of all income and returns from the salt-houses and the Earl one third. But as well as these the Earl had a salt-house of his own, attached to his manor of Acton. From this salt-house the Earl had salt sufficient for his household for the whole year; but if any of it were sold, the King had two pence of the toll, the Earl the third penny.

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,2

In the same {wich} [NANTWICH] many of the men of the district had salt-houses, which were subject to the following custom:

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,3

From Ascension Day to Martinmas anyone who had a salt-house might carry his own salt to his house, but if he sold any of it, either there or anywhere else throughout Cheshire, he paid toll to the King and the Earl.

After Martinmas anyone who carried salt, whether his own or for sale, paid toll, except for the aforesaid salt-house of the Earl, which kept its own custom.

[Nantwich]

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,4

In a week in which these said 8 salt-houses of the King and the Earl were at work boiling, they paid on the Friday 16 boilings, 15 of which make a packload of salt; other men's salt-houses did not pay these Friday boilings between Ascension Day and Martinmas, but from Martinmas to Ascension Day they paid all boiling customs, like the salt-houses of the King and the Earl.

[Nantwich]

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,5

All these salt-houses, both of the commons and of the lords, were bounded on one side by a river and on the other by a dyke.

Anyone who incurred a penalty within these boundaries could pay a fine of 2s, or of 30 boilings of salt, except for homicide, or for a theft for which the thief was condemned to death. Those who committed such offences were punished as in the rest of the shire.

[Nantwich]

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,6

If anyone were proved to have taken the toll [which he should have paid] outside the prescribed boundaries of the salt-houses, to anywhere else in the county, he returned and paid a fine, of 40s if he were a free man, of 4s if he were not free; but if he took it into another shire, he paid the fine where he was charged.

[Nantwich]

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S1,7

Before 1066 this {wich} [NANTWICH] paid £21 in revenue, with all the pleas of this Hundred. When Earl Hugh acquired it, it was abandoned, except for a single salt-house; now William Malbank holds this {wich} from the Earl, with all the customary dues that belong to it, and the whole of this Hundred, which is valued at 40s, of which money 30s is imposed upon the land of William himself, the other 10s upon the Bishop [of Chester]'s land and upon the lands which Richard [of Vernon] and Gilbert [the hunter] have in this Hundred; the {wich} is at a revenue of £10.

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S2,1

S2 [Middlewich]

In Middlewich Hundred there was another {wich} [MIDDLEWICH], [divided] between the King and the Earl. Although there were no lords' salt-houses there, they had the same laws and customs, as set down in the above {wich} [NANTWICH] and the King and Earl shared in the same way. This {wich} [MIDDLEWICH] was at a revenue of £8, and the Hundred in which it lay at 40s; the King had two parts, the Earl the third. When Earl Hugh acquired it, it was abandoned; now the Earl holds it himself, and it is at a revenue of 25s and 2 cartloads of salt; but the value of the Hundred is 40s.

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S2,2

Whoever carted purchased salt from these two {wich}s [NANTWICH and MIDDLEWICH] paid 4d in toll if he had four or more oxen to his cart; if two oxen, he paid 2d toll, if there were two packloads of salt.

A man from another Hundred paid 2d for a packhorse load, but a man from the same Hundred paid only 1/2d for a packload of salt.

Anyone who so overloaded a cart that the axle broke within one league of either {wich} paid 2s to the officer of the King or the Earl, if he could be caught within the league; similarly, anyone who so overloaded a horse that he broke its back paid 2s, if caught within the league; beyond the league, nothing.

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S2,3

Anyone who made two packloads of salt out of one paid a fine of 40s, if the officer could catch him; if he were not found he paid no fine through anyone else.

[Middlewich]

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S2,4

Also in Middlewich Hundred was a third {wich}, called NORTHWICH.

It was at a revenue of £8. The same laws and customs were [kept] there as in the other {wich}s [NANTWICH] and [MIDDLEWICH], and the King and the Earl shared the returns similarly.

[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S3,2

None of the thanes who had salt-houses in this {wich} [NORTHWICH] paid the Friday salt-boilings at any time of the year. Anyone from another shire who brought a cart with 2 or more oxen paid 4d toll; a man from the same shire paid 2d a cart, by the third night after his return home; if the third night passed, he paid a fine of 40s. A man from another shire paid 1d for a packhorse load; but a man from the same shire paid 1 farthing by the third night, as stated.
[[The salt-works of Earl Hugh]]

CHS S3,3

If a man dwelling in this Hundred carted salt through the same county for sale, he paid 1d for each cart each time he loaded it; if he carried salt on a horse for sale, he paid 1d at Martinmas; anyone who did not pay by that date was fined 40s. All the other [customs] in these {wich}s are similar.

LINCOLNSHIRE

List 1

[City of Lincoln]

LIN C1

In the City of LINCOLN there were 970 inhabited messuages before 1066. This number is reckoned by the English method, [that is] 100 for 120.

LIN C2

In the City itself there were 12 lawmen, that is those who have full jurisdiction: Harthacnut; Swarting son of Grimbald; Ulf [Fenman]'s son, Swartbrand, who had market rights; Walraven [father of Aghmund]; Alwold; Brictric; Guthroth; Wulfbert [brother of Ulf]; Godric son of Edeva; Siward the priest; Leofwin the priest; Healfdene the priest.

[Lincoln]

LIN C3

Now there are as many there who likewise have full jurisdiction:

- 1. Swarting in place of his father Harthacnut; 2. Swarting;
- 3. Swartbrand in place of his father Ulf [Fenman]; 4. Aghmund [the priest] in place of
- his father Walraven; 5. Alwold; 6. Godwin son of Brictric;
- 7. Norman the fat in place of Guthroth; 8. Wulfbert, Ulf's brother, is still living; 9. Peter of Valognes in place of Godric son of Edeva; 10. Wulfnoth the priest in place of Siward the priest;
- 11. Burgwald in place of his father Leofwin who is now a monk;
- 12. Leodwin son of Raven in place of Healfdene the priest.

[Lincoln]

LIN C4

Toki son of Auti had 30 messuages in the City besides his hall and 2 1/2 churches. He had his hall exempt from every customary due. He had rent in respect of the 30 other messuages, and besides this 1d from each one, that is the land tribute. In respect of these 30 messuages the King had toll and forfeiture, as the burgesses have sworn. But Wulfgeat the priest contradicts their sworn testimony and offers to undergo ordeal that it is not as they say. Geoffrey Alselin and his nephew Ralph hold this hall. Bishop Remigius holds the said 30 messuages among [the lands of] the church of St Mary with the result that Geoffrey Alselin has nothing from them, neither [in] exchange nor other payment. Geoffrey [Alselin] also has 1 messuage outside the wall from which he has the land tribute, as Toki [son of Auti] had.

[Lincoln]

LIN C5

Ralph Paynel has 1 messuage, which was Merleswein [the sheriff]'s, exempt from every customary due.
[Lincoln]

LIN C6

Ernwin the priest has 1 messuage of Earl Morcar's with full jurisdiction; he holds from the King in the same way as Morcar had it, as he says himself.
[Lincoln]

LIN C7

Gilbert of Ghent has 1 messuage, Ulf [Fenman]'s, with full jurisdiction, another messuage from which he had 1d, and a further 1 messuage, Siward's, exempt from every customary due.
[Lincoln]

LIN C8

Earl Hugh has 1 messuage, Earl Harold's, with full jurisdiction, and 2 messuages from which he has the land tribute.
[Lincoln]

LIN C9

Roger of Bully has 1 messuage, Swein son of Svavi's, with full jurisdiction.
[Lincoln]

LIN C10

Countess Judith has 1 messuage, Stori <of Bolingbroke>'s, without full jurisdiction.

Ivo Tallboys claims it through the burgesses.

[Lincoln]

LIN C11

Bishop Remigius has 1 small manor ['Willingthorpe'] with 1 carucate adjacent to the City of LINCOLN, with full jurisdiction and market rights; likewise in respect of 3 messuages, 2 churches and 78 messuages except for the King's tax which they pay with the burgesses. Of these, 20 messuages are unoccupied. Of the 3 messuages above, 1 is exempt from everything, but 2 are taxed with the burgesses.

<336b>

LIN C12

In the fields of LINCOLN outside the City there are 12 1/2 carucates of land, besides the carucate of the Bishop of the City. Of this land the King and the Earl have 8 carucates in lordship. King William gave one of them to Ulfkil for a ship which he bought from him. But the man who sold the ship is dead and no one has this carucate of land except with the King's consent. Besides these 8 carucates the King and the Earl have 231 acres of arable land, {inland}, and 100 acres of meadow.

LIN C13

Of the remaining land, that is 4 1/2 carucates, before 1066 Ulf [Fenman] had 1 carucate, now his son Swartbrand has it.

[Lincoln]

LIN C14

Before 1066 Siward the priest and Auti had another carucate, and 6 acres of meadow, which Wulfgeat the priest holds. Now Alnoth has half of this carucate and Norman son of Siward the priest the other half. But Wulfnoth the priest seized the said half of that land - and the wife of Siward the priest - while it was in the King's possession because of [a fine of] 40s which the King himself had imposed on Siward the priest.

[Lincoln]

LIN C15

Peter of Valognes has the third carucate which Godric had before 1066.
[Lincoln]

LIN C16

The fourth carucate was attached to the church of All Saints before 1066, also 12 plots and 4 crofts. Godric son of Garwine had this church, the church's land and whatever belonged to it. But now that he has become a monk the Abbot of Peterborough holds them. But all the burgesses of LINCOLN say that he has them wrongfully, because neither Garwine nor Godric his son nor anyone else could grant them outside the City or outside their family except with the King's consent. This church and what belongs to it Ernwin the priest claims by inheritance from his kinsman Godric.

LIN C17

St Mary's of Lincoln, where the Bishopric is now, had and has the remaining 1/2 carucate of land.
[Lincoln]

LIN C18

Between them the churches of Lincoln and the burgesses had 36 crofts in LINCOLN, besides the 12 1/2 carucates of land which are listed above.

LIN C19

Of the said messuages which were inhabited before 1066, 200 are now unoccupied by the English reckoning, that is 240, and by the same reckoning 760 are now inhabited.
[Lincoln]

LIN C20

Those written below have not paid the King's tax as they ought to have:

The land of St Mary's where Theodbert lives in the High Street has not paid tax; nor has the Bishop's land situated at St Lawrence's [of Lincoln] paid tax on 1 house.

The Abbot of Peterborough has not paid tax on 1 house and 3 plots.

Earl Hugh has not paid tax on all his land, nor has Tuold of Greetwell, nor Losoard <of Rolleston> nor Ketilbert <of Nettleton>.

Hugh son of Baldric has not paid tax on 2 plots, nor has Geoffrey Alselin, likewise on 2 plots.

Nor has Gilbert paid tax on 3 houses; nor Peter of Valognes on his house; nor Countess Judith on her house; nor Ralph Paynel on 1 house; nor Ralph of Bapaume on his house; nor Ertald on his house.

[Lincoln]

LIN C22

Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] has in the City of LINCOLN 4 plots of his nephew Cola's land. Outside the City he has 36 houses and 2 churches to which nothing is attached, which he settled on waste land which the King gave him and which had never been settled before. Now the King has all the customary dues from them.

LIN C23

Alfred nephew of Tuold, has 3 plots of Sibbi's land which the King gave him, in which he has all the customary dues except for the King's tax from the mint.

[Lincoln]

LIN C24

The Abbot of Ely has 1/2 messuage from {Edstan} <of Farningham>'s land.

LIN C33

If anyone for any crime should be exiled by the King, the Earl and the men of the Shire, no one but the King can give him peace.
[Lincoln]

List 2

[Borough of Stamford]

<336d>

LIN S1

The King's Borough of STAMFORD paid tax before 1066 for 12 1/2 hundreds for the army, ship service and for Danegeld. There were and are six wards: five in Lincolnshire and the sixth in Northamptonshire - it is across the bridge; however, it paid every customary due with the other [wards] except for tribute and toll, which the Abbot of Peterborough had and has.

LIN S2

In these five wards before 1066 there were 141 messuages and 1/2 mill which paid all the customary dues; but now there are as many except for 5 which are unoccupied because of the construction of the castle.
[Stamford]

LIN S3

In these wards there are 6 messuages which before 1066 paid all the customary dues, but now they do not pay them. Brand has 4; Ulfkil son of Merewin, 2.

[Stamford]

LIN S4

In these wards there are 77 messuages of Freemen who have their lands in lordship and seek lords where they will. The King has nothing over them except for a fine [consisting] of their forfeiture, heriot and toll. 1 mill at 30s which Eustace of Huntingdon took away; it was one of the Freemen's.

[Stamford]

LIN S5

In STAMFORD before 1066 there were 12 lawmen who had full jurisdiction within their houses and over their men, except for tax, heriot, forfeiture involving their bodies at 40 {orae} of silver, and robbery. They also have this now, but they are only nine; one of them has 17 messuages under him and 1/2 mill, 15s; the second, 14 messuages - one of these is unoccupied; the third, 2 messuages; the fourth, 2 1/2; the fifth, 5; the sixth, 4; the seventh, 3; the eighth, 1; the ninth, 3, but Hugh Musard has taken 2 away from him.

LIN S6

In these wards there are still 22 messuages and 2 churches with 12 acres of land at 14s which Ernwin the priest had before 1066; Edsi had 1 messuage. Eudo the steward now has these 23 messuages. The King had every customary due in respect of them, now he does not.

[Stamford]

LIN S7

Also in this town Azur had 7 messuages and 1/2 mill before 1066; now Gunfrid of Chocques has them. To them belong 70 acres outside the town.

[Stamford]

LIN S8

Edward the noble had 14 messuages and 70 acres outside the town;
now Countess Judith has them.

[Stamford]

LIN S9

Queen Edith had 70 messuages which lay in `Roteland', with all the customary dues, except the bakers'. Attached to them are 2 1/2 carucates of land and 1 plough, which is ploughing, and 45 acres of meadow outside the town. Now King William has them.

Value £6; value before 1066 £4.

[Stamford]

LIN S10

In STAMFORD the Abbot of Peterborough had and has 10 messuages which belong to Lincolnshire; 1 mill, 40s; 5s from houses and from 8 acres.

LIN S11

Leofwin had 9 messuages; now Alfred [of Lincoln] has them. Leofwin also [had] 1 message with every customary due except tax, which Guy of Raimbeaucourt has now.

[Stamford]

LIN S12

Fastulfr had 1 church from the King, exempt, with 8 acres.

[Stamford]

LIN S13

Albert [of Lorraine] [has] 1 church, St Peter's [of Stamford], with 2 messuages and 1/2

carucate of land which lies in `Roteland', in Hambleton.

Value 10s.

[Stamford]

LIN S14

The King has 600 acres of arable land outside the town in Lincolnshire.
[Stamford]

LIN S15

The lawmen and burgesses have 272 acres without every customary due.
[Stamford]

LIN S16

Before 1066 STAMFORD paid £15, now it pays £50 in revenue.
It now pays £28 in respect of every customary due of the King's.

List 3

[Torksey]

<337a>

LIN T1

In TORKSEY before 1066 there were 213 burgesses. They all had the same customary dues as the men of Lincoln, and so much more, since whoever of them had a messuage in this town did not pay toll on entering or leaving nor a customary due. However, this was their [obligation]: if the King's officers should come there the men of this small town should conduct them with their ships and other equipment for navigation as far as York, and the sheriff should find supplies for the officers and the sailors out of his revenue. But if any of the burgesses wished to go away anywhere and sell [his] house which was in this town, he could do it, if he wished, without the knowledge and permission of the reeve.

LIN T2

Queen Edith had this small town of TORKSEY and the manor of Hardwick adjacent to it in lordship and she had 2 carucates of land without tax outside the town. Now the King has them in lordship; there are 102 burgesses who live there, but 111 messuages are unoccupied. To this town belong 20 acres of meadow, 60 acres of underwood and 11 fisheries. One of them is Berengar of Tosny's.

Value before 1066, between the King and the Earl, £18; now £30.

LIN T3

Before 1066 TORKSEY and Hardwick paid in Lincoln the fifth penny from the City's tax. Towards this fifth part Torksey paid two pennies and Hardwick the third. [Earl] Morcar had the third penny of all the customary dues of this [place called] Torksey.

LIN T4

In Hardwick Swein [son of Svavi] and Godric had 1 carucate of land; 12 men lived there. Now Roger of Bully has half and the Bishop of Lincoln the other half at St Mary's of Stow. There falls to [Hardwick] the third part of the King's tax which the King does not have from that [part] which is due from TORKSEY.

LIN T5

Here are noted those who had full jurisdiction and market rights in Lincolnshire:

[‘LOUTHESK’ Wapentake]

In TATHWELL hundred the Bishop of Bayeux's men claim 1 carucate of land against Robert the bursar, and the men of the Wapentake say that the Bishop himself ought rightly to have it.

LIN CS2

In the same hundred [TATHWELL] the same Bishop [of Bayeux]'s men claim 3 bovates of land against Earl Hugh, and the Wapentake says that the Bishop himself ought to have them.

LIN CS3

In the same hundred [TATHWELL] the mill which was Aghmund [son of Walraven]'s and [which] after him Lambert and Jocelyn his son had, the Wapentake says that Robert the bursar ought to have with his land.

LIN CS4

In LOUTH hundred the Bishop of Lincoln claims 1 mill against Count Alan, and the Wapentake testifies it ought to be the same Bishop's.

LIN CS5

Those lands which Alsi [son of Godram] and Ulfgrim <of Laughton> had in Lindsey they place [among the lands of] the Church of St Mary, Lincoln, and at Bishop Wulfwy's discretion, and so Bishop Remigius claims them because they had £160 for the lands themselves before 1066.

LIN CS6

In BURWELL hundred the King's officers claim against Earl Hugh in HAUGHAM and MAIDENWELL the lands of the two brothers Godric and Edric, and the men of the Wapentake have adjudged them for the King's use.

LIN CS7

In [Little] CARLTON hundred William of Percy claims 1/2 carucate of land against Kolsveinn [of Lincoln], and the Wapentake testifies in favour of the same William.

LIN CS8

In SOMERCOTES hundred Alfred of Lincoln claims 1/2 carucate of land against the King in YARBURGH, but the Riding says that he has nothing there except 9 1/2 acres and 1 plot, the jurisdiction of which lies in the King's manor of Gayton[-le-Wold].

LIN CS9

In the same hundred [SOMERCOTES] Siward Buss claims 1 mill against Alfred [of Lincoln], and the men of the Riding [say] that Alfred [of Lincoln] has half in Rainer of Brimeux's [manor] of Keddington and [that] the Bishop of Durham has the other half as a jurisdiction of Keddington.

LIN CS10

In `SKIDBROOKE' hundred Alfred [of Lincoln] claims 3 bovates of land in STEWTON against Ilbert [of Lacy]. The men of the Riding say that Alfred [of Lincoln] ought to have them himself.

LIN CS11

In WITHCALL hundred Rainer [of Brimeux] claims the whole minster [church], and the rq men of the Riding say that it was his predecessor's, and [so was] the third part of the jurisdiction, and that Ilbert of Lacy [has] 2 parts of the jurisdiction over the church and the land which is an adjunct of it.

LIN CS12

[`CALCEWATH' Wapentake]

In SWABY hundred Robert the bursar claims against Earl Hugh 1 carucate of land in CLAYTHORPE. The men of the Riding say that the jurisdiction lies in Greetham and was Wiglac [son of Siward]'s and he himself left the land and forfeited it and they say that Robert the bursar has nothing there.

LIN CS13

In RIGSBY hundred Losoard <of Rolleston> claims against Gilbert of Ghent 1 carucate of land in WELL. The men of the Riding say that before 1066 Thorulf had it with full jurisdiction and afterwards Tonni <of Lusby> had it, and [that] this land was delivered to Bishop Odo by charter, but they have not seen the King's writ for it, and he had it himself on the day he was taken, and later he was dispossessed.

LIN CS14

In the same hundred [RIGSBY] Rainer of Brimeux claims against Earl Hugh 2 bovates of land in ULCEBY, and the men of the Riding say that he ought to have nothing except the jurisdiction in Cumberworth, and the Earl [ought to have] the land.

LIN CS15

In THEDDLETHORPE hundred the Bishop of Durham claims against Earl Hugh 2 bovates in MABLETHORPE. The men of the Riding say that he has nothing except 1 bovatē which was Bergthorr's.
<375b>

and that the jurisdiction is Earl Hugh's in Greetham. There also William Blunt [has] 3 bovates which were Sumarlithi [son of Karli]'s, Godric's and Siward's, and the jurisdiction is in Greetham, by witness of the whole Riding.

LIN CS16

In HUTTOFT hundred Alfred [of Lincoln] claims 2 bovates of land, and the men of the Riding say that he ought to have one with full jurisdiction, and the other likewise is his, but Earl Hugh has the jurisdiction in Greetham.

LIN CS17

In the same hundred [HUTTOFT] the Riding says that the same Alfred [of Lincoln] ought to have the jurisdiction of 1 bovatē which Alfred [of Lincoln] claims against Ketilbiorn <of Nettleton> in SUTTON[-on-Sea].

LIN CS18

In MUMBY hundred Count Alan claims 2 bovates of land against Gilbert of Ghent, but the Riding says that Gilbert's predecessor had full jurisdiction over it before 1066 and it ought to be his.

LIN CS19

In WILLOUGHBY hundred the Bishop of Durham claims the land of Alnoth the priest against Gilbert of Ghent, and the men of the Riding say that they never saw the Bishop's predecessor put in possession of it, either by writ or officer, and they testify [it is] for Gilbert's use.

LIN CS20

In the same hundred [WILLOUGHBY] the men of the Riding testify that Ketilbiorn <of Nettleton> ought to have 20 acres of woodland in HANBY, and Ivo Tallboys the jurisdiction.

LIN CS21

[HORNCastle Wapentake]

Concerning the claim [disputed] between the Bishop of Durham and Eudo son of Spirewic, the men of Horncastle Wapentake have borne witness, with the agreement of the whole Riding, that the three brothers, Harold, Guthfrithr and Aelfric, divided their father's lordship land equally and jointly, and that only Harold and Guthfrithr divided their father's jurisdiction, without the third brother, and they held it equally and jointly before 1066.

LIN CS22

[`WRAGGOE' Wapentake]

Concerning the jurisdiction of 6 bovates about which there is a claim [disputed] between the Bishop [of Durham] and Eudo [son of Spirewic] in LANGTON[-by-Wragby] and in {TORP}, the men of `Wraggoe' Wapentake say that the said two brothers had the jurisdiction equally and jointly before 1066, but in 1066 Guthfrithr's sons had the whole jurisdiction, but they do not know how they had it, whether by force or by their uncle's gift.

LIN CS23

Concerning the claim which Robert the bursar makes against Gilbert of Ghent about the woodland which is in LANGTON[-by-Wragby], `Wraggoe' Wapentake says, with the agreement of the whole Riding, that Tonni <of Lusby> had it before 1066 with full jurisdiction in Baumber, and therefore Gilbert of Ghent rightly has it.

LIN CS24

Concerning the underwood which Robert the bursar claims against the King in Hainton and against Erneis of Buron in WRAGBY, by the witness of the Wapentake he has nothing there. But over Earl Hugh's 12 acres and the Bishop of Bayeux's 8 acres he has jurisdiction according to the witness of the men of the Wapentake and Riding.

LIN CS25

[In] the claim which Rainer of Brimeux made against Alfred of Lincoln concerning the jurisdiction of 3 1/2 bovates of land, he ought to have nothing there, as the men of the Wapentake and Riding testify; but Roger of Poitou ought to have it [as belonging] to the house of his predecessor Klak in Hainton.

<375c>

LIN CS26

Concerning the claim which Erneis of Buron makes against William of Percy in LEGSBY about the jurisdiction of 4 bovates, the Wapentake says that the same Erneis ought rightly to have it.

LIN CS27

Concerning the claim which Archbishop Thomas made - that is, that he ought to have jurisdiction over the land of Siward, the predecessor of Ivo Tallboys - the Wapentake says, and the Riding, that Siward held his land with as full jurisdiction as Godwin, the Archbishop's predecessor, held his, and therefore he does not claim it justly.

LIN CS28

Archbishop Thomas ought to have jurisdiction over Eskil's land which the Bishop of Bayeux has in [South] WILLINGHAM because, as the whole County testifies, the Archbishop's predecessor had full jurisdiction over the same land, and the Bishop's men wrongfully took the same jurisdiction away from the same Archbishop.

LIN CS29

Before 1066 Almer, Archbishop Thomas's predecessor, was in possession of the jurisdiction of 10 bovates in [South] WILLINGHAM. This land was Koddi's and is now Rainer of Brimeux's; it was pledged for £3 before 1066. Now the men of the Riding affirm that the Archbishop ought rightly to have this jurisdiction until £3 are paid to him.

LIN CS30

Gilbert of Ghent and Norman of Arcy claim against William of Percy

the jurisdiction of 12 bovates in STAINFIELD, which belongs to Barlings and was Tonni <of Lusby>'s. But the Wapentake, and the County, says that Gilbert ought to have it, not Norman. But William of Percy holds it by the King's gift as Robert son of Stigand held it.

LIN CS31

They put forward the same argument concerning the jurisdiction of 7 bovates in APLEY because it lies in Barlings and Tonni <of Lusby> held it before 1066.

LIN CS32

Also in APLEY the Bishop of Durham claims the jurisdiction of 2 bovates against William of Percy, and the Wapentake says that the same Bishop's predecessor had it and he ought to have it himself in Bullington.

LIN CS33

[HORNCASTLE Wapentake]

The Wapentake of Horncastle says that Robert the bursar wrongfully makes a claim against Gilbert of Ghent about 1/2 carucate of land in BAUMBER and about another 1/2 carucate in EDLINGTON. Before 1066 Tonni <of Lusby> had this land.

LIN CS34

Robert the bursar ought to have jurisdiction over the fishery and over the plot which Ketilbiorn <of Nettleton> holds in CONINGSBY because Aki [son of Siward], Robert's predecessor, had it before 1066.

LIN CS35

[`CANDLESHOE' Wapentake]

`Candlehoe' Wapentake says that Ivo Tallboys ought to have in ASHBY[-by-Partney] what he claims against Earl Hugh, that is, 1 mill and 1 bovat of land, but the jurisdiction belongs to Greetham.

LIN CS36

Concerning 2 carucates of land which Robert the bursar claims against Gilbert of Ghent in SCREMBY through Wiglac [son of Siward], his predecessor, the Wapentake says that he had only 1 carucate and the jurisdiction of that was in Bardney; Wiglac [son of Siward], however, forfeited that land to [the loss of] his lord, Gilbert, and therefore Robert has nothing there, by the witness of the Riding.

LIN CS37

Also in SCREMBY Ketilbiorn <of Nettleton> claims 1 carucate against Gilbert of Ghent through Godric, but they say that he had only 1/2 carucate and its jurisdiction was in Bardney; and Ketilbiorn wrongfully claims it as the Wapentake says, because his predecessor forfeited it.

LIN CS38

The men of 'Candleshoe' Wapentake testify, with the consent of <375d>

the whole Riding, that Sighvatr, Alnoth, Fenkell and Eskil equally and jointly divided their father's land between themselves before 1066 and held it in such a way that if a royal expedition was necessary and Sighvatr could go, the other brothers helped him. After him, the next one went and Sighvatr, with the rest, helped him; and so on with them all. However, Sighvatr was the King's man. [The men] of Bolingbroke [Wapentake] testify to the same with the above men, and the South Riding also agrees.

LIN CS39

['LOUTHESK' Wapentake]

In SALTFLEET, 'MARE' and 'SWINE' a new toll has come into use and Ansgar of 'Skidbrooke' has been receiving it, also Rainald, Humphrey and Geoffrey; 'Louthesk' Wapentake, and the whole South Riding, says that this toll did not exist before 1066. Godric paid a toll of 1d according to the testimony of Ulfkil of Asterby who saw it. Arnketil of Withern testifies that he himself saw Ansgar receive the toll from 24 ships from Hastings.

LIN CS40

In SALTFLEET Hugh the servant receives the customary dues of the ships which come there willingly and unwillingly. These [dues] did not exist there before 1066; they originated this new practice and the men of the Riding say that they saw a claim made for it.

List 6

[CN] Claims in the North Riding

LIN CN1

[YARBOROUGH Wapentake]

In BARTON[-upon-Humber] and in [South] FERRIBY Gilbert of Ghent's men receive a different toll to the one they received before 1066, from bread, fishes, skins and very many other things, for which nothing was ever given.

LIN CN2

In CAISTOR the King's men do likewise.

LIN CN3

In LIMBER Ivo Tallboys claims 6 bovates of land against the King. The men of the County say that he ought to have the land himself and the King the jurisdiction.

LIN CN4

Instead of 30 acres of meadow which Alfred [of Lincoln] claims in ULCEBY he ought to have in the same village 1 strip of ploughland.

LIN CN5

Yarborough Wapentake testifies that in GOXHILL [Earl] Morcar gave Hugh 4 bovates of land with full jurisdiction, which Drogo of la Beuvrière claims. Alfred [of Lincoln] claims 1 bovat of this land. The Wapentake says that the land is Hugh's, and the jurisdiction is Alfred's.

LIN CN6

The Wapentake testifies that King William gave the church of CAISTOR to St Mary's of Lincoln in alms; to which church belong 2 bovates of land in lordship, 2 villagers and 1 mill, and in Hundon the jurisdiction of 1 carucate.

LIN CN7

Jocelyn [son of Lambert] claims 3 bovates of land in SEARBY against Count Alan.

The County says that Jocelyn [son of Lambert] ought to have it, not Alan.

LIN CN8

Hugh son of Baldric claims 1/2 bovat of land in BROCKLESBY. The men of the Riding say that the land ought to be his, and the jurisdiction Norman [of Arcy]'s, through their predecessors.

LIN CN9

In STALLINGBOROUGH the Wapentake says that Rainer the deacon held Elaf's 2 manors on the day he left this country.

LIN CN10

Rainer of Brimeux ought to have the jurisdiction in LIMBER of 1/2 bovat of land which Archbishop Thomas has in Stallingborough.

LIN CN11

Concerning one manor of Elaf's which Archbishop Thomas now has in Keelby, Rainer the deacon was in possession of it on the day he left this land.

LIN CN12

[BRADLEY Wapentake]

In [Great] COATES Alfred [of Lincoln] ought to have the land of the 2 bovates and Durand Malet the jurisdiction [of them] with 3 villagers who belong to it.

LIN CN13

Rainer the deacon was in possession of 1 carucate of land in

<376a>

SWALLOW when he left this land.

Likewise the same Rainer the deacon was in possession of Erik [brother of Tosti]'s land which is in GRIMSBY hundred; now the Bishop of Bayeux has it.

LIN CN14

Ralph of Mortimer's men and Losoard <of Rolleston>'s men receive a new toll in GRIMSBY, which did not exist before 1066, but Losoard <of Rolleston> denies that his men did it on his authority.

LIN CN15

[WALSHCROFT Wapentake]

The Bishop of Bayeux and the Bishop of Lincoln ought to have jurisdiction over 2 1/2 bovates of land which lies in [the lands of] the church of Winghale.

LIN CN16

In OWERSBY hundred the Bishop of Bayeux has jurisdiction over 1/2 carucate of land which was Ernwin the priest's, and is now Siward the priest's.

LIN CN17

In OSGOBY Jocelyn son of Lambert ought to have jurisdiction over 1/2 bovat of land.

LIN CN18

In TEALBY hundred Rainer the deacon had Erik [brother of Tosti]'s land with all that belongs there. Jocelyn [son of Lambert] holds it and Rainer claims it. The Riding testifies that Count Alan's predecessor had the jurisdiction but they do not know of what type.

LIN CN19

In CLAXBY Jocelyn son of Lambert ought to have 1 mill which Geoffrey, Ivo Tallboys' man, seized against his [will].

LIN CN20

In CROXBY William Blunt ought to have 1 garden in Ivo Tallboys' land, but he is prevented [from doing so] on account of a mill which was not there before 1066.

LIN CN21

[`HAVERSTOE' Wapentake]

In FULSTOW the Bishop of Durham ought to have 40 acres of land - of meadow - and 4 plots, and Count Alan jurisdiction over them, as the Wapentake says.

LIN CN22

In the same village [FULSTOW] they judge that Count Alan has jurisdiction over 1 carucate of land in Robert the bursar's land, and Drogo [of la Beuvrière] ought to have 1 salt-house there which he claims, and Count Alan jurisdiction over it.

LIN CN23

Rainer the deacon was in possession of Fulcric's land in CUXWOLD when he left this land. Now Archbishop Thomas holds it; Rainer of Brimeux claims it.

LIN CN24

Also in CUXWOLD William of Percy ought to have 2 bovates of land, which he claims, in Hugh son of Baldric's land. The Wapentake testifies in favour of him.

LIN CN25

The Wapentake says that Count Alan ought to have jurisdiction over Grimkel's hall, whose land the Bishop of Durham has in [Wold] Newton.

LIN CN26

Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] did not deliver the land of Ingimundr and his brothers to Count Alan, but the same Ingimundr made it subject to this Count on account of other land which he held from him.

LIN CN27

[LUDBOROUGH Wapentake]

The North Riding, and all the County, testifies that the land of Ulf [son of Topi] in [North] Ormsby, that is 4 1/2 carucates of land, was sold to St Mary's of Stow before 1066 and it lay in its [lands] in 1066, and later on Bishop Remigius was in possession of it.

LIN CN28

In {SCHEMIN} [[North] Ormsby] in Ivo Tallboys' land Drogo [of la Beuvrière] claims 3 messuages which he ought to have, by witness of the Wapentake, with full jurisdiction.

LIN CN29

In FOTHERBY, the land of Berengar of Tosny, the Bishop of Durham ought to have 5 bovates of land and Berengar [of Tosny] jurisdiction over it.

LIN CN30

[BOLINGBROKE Wapentake]

The Wapentake, and the whole County, testifies that the Bishop of Durham ought to have the land of 3 brothers with full jurisdiction, and Eudo son of Spirewic the land of the fourth brother, likewise with full jurisdiction: their names are Sighvatr - or Godwin - Alnoth, Fenkell and Eskil.

<376b>

[CW] Claims in the West Riding

LIN CW1

[`LAWRESS' Wapentake]

`Lawress' Wapentake testifies that Alnoth had full jurisdiction over his land, 3 carucates in BURTON. Now Swartbrand [son of Ulf] has it after him.

LIN CW2

The Abbot of Peterborough claims 4 bovates of land in RISEHOLME, Kolsveinn [of Lincoln]'s land, and the Wapentake testifies that before 1066 they lay in [the lands of] the church of All Saints in Lincoln.

LIN CW3

Three burgesses of Lincoln, Guthroth [the lawman], Leofwin and Sigewine, before 1066 held in pledge from Aghmund [son of Walraven] the land which Jocelyn son of Lambert claims in '[Middle] CARLTON' against Norman the fat.

LIN CW4

In SCAMPTON Norman the fat added £3 and 1 gold mark, and he pledged this to Ivo the sheriff.

LIN CW5

In SCOTHERN hundred before 1066 Godric, Norman [of Arcy]'s predecessor, had 4 1/2 bovates of land, as the Wapentake testifies.

LIN CW6

In the same hundred [SCOTHERN] Gilbert of Ghent claims 1 carucate of land against the Abbot of Peterborough. But the Wapentake testifies that St Peter's had this land with its jurisdiction in 1066.

LIN CW7

In NETTLEHAM hundred Bishop Remigius claims 2 bovates of land and the Wapentake testifies he ought to have them himself.

LIN CW8

The Wapentake says that St Peter's of Peterborough ought to have the fourth part of the woodland which Ranulf and Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] claim in REEPHAM.

LIN CW9

['WELL' Wapentake]

The Wapentake testifies that Ulfkil, Asfrith, Restelf and

Wulfmer had full jurisdiction over their lands and over their men in STURTON[-by-Stow] hundred. St Mary's [of Stow] has 2 parts of the jurisdiction over the forfeiture in the Wapentake, and the Earl the third. Now the King [has it]. Likewise concerning heriot. If they had forfeited their land, St Mary's would have had 2 parts and the Earl the third.

LIN CW10

The Shire testifies that Gunnhvati's land - 1 manor of 1 carucate in lordship - was forfeited, 2 parts [going] to St Mary's [of Stow] and the third part for the Earl's use. Likewise concerning all the jurisdiction which belongs to [Gate] Burton or {Broctone}. Likewise also concerning Steingrimr's land, 18 bovates of land.

LIN CW11

Concerning all the thanes who have land in 'Well' Wapentake, St Mary's has 2 parts of the forfeiture, the Earl the third; likewise concerning heriot. Likewise if they had forfeited their land, two parts [would have been] in St Mary's [of Stow] and the third part in the Earl's hands. Now the King has it. In this custom Gilbert of Ghent does not partake nor Robert of Tosny nor Ralph of Mortimer because of their predecessors.

LIN CW12

['ASLACOE' Wapentake]

Before 1066 Grimkel had full jurisdiction over his land, but in 1066 he forfeited it and gave it to Merleswein the sheriff, because he stood accused before the King, and made him heir to it.

LIN CW13

In OWMBY[-by-Spital] Jocelyn [son of Lambert] has 9 bovates of Aghmund [son of Walraven]'s land and Ivo [Tallboys] 1 bovat. Bishop Remigius ought to have the jurisdiction of these.

<376c>

LIN CW14

[CORRINGHAM Wapentake]

In NORTHORPE hundred Siward Rufus had 1 carucate of land with full jurisdiction before 1066, and more recently Ralph of Neville held it from Abbot Turolde, but he did not have a deliverer for it. Now it is adjudged for the King's use.

LIN CW15

In the same hundred [NORTHORPE] in LAUGHTON village Guy of Craon claims jurisdiction over Swein's land through his predecessor Wilgrim <of Laughton>, and the Wapentake testifies that Wilgrim <of Laughton> himself had full jurisdiction over the same Swein before 1066.

LIN CW16

[CORRINGHAM Wapentake and `MANLEY Wapentake]
The Shire testifies that in 1066 and later Eskil [brother of Brand] had from King Edward these three manors, SCOTTON, SCOTTER and RAVENTHORPE, under his free authority. Likewise he had MUSKHAM in Nottinghamshire. He held 1 manor, MANTON, on lease from his brother [Abbot] Brand, the monk.

LIN CW17

[EPWORTH Wapentake]
The West Riding testifies that the claims which have been [made] in EPWORTH Wapentake have been rightly made.
[a] Norman the fat claims 7 bovates of land against Geoffrey of la Guerche in HAXEY.
[b] Gilbert of Ghent claims 4 carucates of land and 6 bovates against Geoffrey himself. This is Ulf Fenman's land in BELTON.
[c] Henry of Ferrers claims 3 bovates of land against Geoffrey himself. This is Siward Barn's land in AMCOTTS.
[d] Again, Gilbert of Ghent claims 1/2 carucate of the jurisdiction in BELTON against the same Geoffrey which was Ulf Fenman's.

LIN CW18

[`MANLEY' Wapentake]
The Wapentake testifies that in WINTERINGHAM hundred Erneis of Buron ought to have {Wege} <of Womersley>'s land, that is 6 bovates of land and 1 plot in Gilbert of Ghent's jurisdiction and another plot with full jurisdiction.

LIN CW19

In THEALBY hundred Ralph Paynel claims 1 plot. The Wapentake says that he ought to have it himself and the King the jurisdiction in Kirton[-in-Lindsey].

LIN CW20

Norman of Arcy claims 3 bovates of land in NORMANBY against Drogo [of la Beuvrière]. The Wapentake says that the land ought to be his and the jurisdiction Drogo's.

[CK] Claims in Kesteven

LIN CK1

[`NESS' Wapentake]

`Ness' Wapentake and the whole Riding have testified that the land of Wulfgeat and his mother Wulffled was not Arnbiorn <of `Avethorpe'>'s, his sister's relative, and he only had it in charge until Wulfgeat could hold the land: that is, 7 carucates in UFFINGTON, 6 1/2 carucates in TALLINGTON, 6 bovates in CASEWICK and 4 bovates - 1/2 carucate - in `EAST DEEPING' [DEEPING [St James]].

LIN CK2

The Wapentake says that before 1066 St Peter's of Peterborough had 60 acres of land which Countess Judith has and cultivates with ploughs from Belmesthorpe.

The {warnode} of these 60 acres of land and of 48 acres of meadow lies in Uffington [the land] of Alfred of Lincoln, but it has been kept back by force

LIN CK3

The Wapentake says that Azur's 1/2 carucate of land in BARHOLM ought to be Gunfrid of Chocques'.

LIN CK4

The Wapentake says that Hereward [the Wake] did not have Asfrith's land in BARHOLM hundred on the day he fled.

LIN CK5

[BELTISLOE Wapentake]

Ralph Paynel has 6 bovates of land of [Earl] Morcar's land in BURTON[-le-Coggles] hundred, but Merleswein did not have it before 1066.

LIN CK6

The Abbot of Peterborough claims 1 bovat of land against Drogo [of la Beuvrière] in Witham[-on-the-Hill] hundred. The Wapentake says that the land ought to be St Peter's and the jurisdiction Gilbert of Ghent's in Edenham.

LIN CK7

In [Little] BYTHAM hundred Radbod ought to have 1 carucate of land which he claims, but the jurisdiction is St Peter's of Peterborough.

LIN CK8

They say that the {warnode} of 4d from 60 acres of woodland which lies in SKILLINGTON belongs in [Little] Bytham.

LIN CK9

They say that Arnbiorn <of `Avethorpe'> had 13 acres of woodland and 25 acres of arable land in IRNHAM and that it belongs to Aslackby which Robert of Tosny has.

LIN CK10

Archbishop Aldred acquired LENTON and SKILLINGTON, with the outlier HARDWICK, from Ulf son of Topi with his own money which he gave him in the sight of the Wapentake; later they saw the King's seal through which he was possessed of these lands because Ilbold had dispossessed him of them.

LIN CK11

[`FLAXWELL' Wapentake]

The Wapentake says that Eskil was the King's thane and never had his land under Merleswein.

LIN CK12

Robert of Stafford wrongfully held 6 bovates, a jurisdiction, of Arnketil's land in RAUCEBY hundred, as the Wapentake says.

LIN CK13

They say that Bishop Remigius's claim which he makes concerning Arnketil's jurisdiction in RAUCEBY hundred is wrongful because he only had 10 bovates himself from the lordship of the same Arnketil's land in exchange, and the whole of the other land was delivered to the Bishop of Durham.

LIN CK14

[`LANGOE' Wapentake]

The Wapentake says that the 9 bovates of land which Walter of Aincourt claims are a jurisdiction of Branston, the land of Alsí the deacon which Walter has now: therefore he is claiming rightfully.

LIN CK15

The men of NAVENBY hold back by force 16s from the customary dues of pasturage which are in Scopwick and Kirkby [Green] and they did not give them before 1066.

LIN CK16

Robert of Stafford claims that the land of Auti, Archbishop Thomas's man, ought to lie in the jurisdiction of his predecessor, Leofsi, but the Wapentake says that they never saw Auti give the jurisdiction to Leofsi.

LIN CK17

Concerning Earl Hugh's claim, they say that Othin had the land before 1066 and the jurisdiction lay in Potterhanworth.

<377a>

LIN CK18

In CANWICK Swartbrand [son of Ulf] claims 140 acres. The Wapentake bears witness in favour of him because his father, Ulf [Fenman], gave 1 gold mark in pledge for this land.

LIN CK19

[WINNIBRIGGS Wapentake]

In PONTON Countess Judith holds 2 manors which were Almer's and his brothers'. Robert of Tosny claims them, and the Wapentake bears witness for him that they were delivered to him in exchange for Marston.

LIN CK20

In CASTHORPE Robert of Tosny claims 2 bovates and 2 plots against Robert Malet and the Wapentake says they ought to lie in Woolsthorpe[-by-Belvoir].

Concerning 1 garden in the same village they say that it ought to lie in Robert of Stafford's [manor of] Casthorpe.

LIN CK21

They say that Northmann son of Merewin had 7 gardens in rq GRANTHAM and their jurisdiction belongs there, but the gardens themselves belong to Gonerby.

They say likewise concerning 2 bovates of land which belong to Gonerby and the jurisdiction lies in Grantham.

LIN CK22

Ivo Tallboys claims 2 carucates of land, less 30 acres, in STENWITH against Robert of Tosny for which he pays the tax himself. Concerning this, they say that it is right that they themselves should go over this land and divide it rightly in proportion to the tax they pay.

LIN CK23

In STOKE [Rochford] half hundred Robert of Stafford claims Karli's land, 3 carucates of land. The Wapentake says that this land was Ralph the constable's and the said Robert has nothing there.

LIN CK24

They say that the tithes and customary church dues from `Winnibriggs' Wapentake and `Threo' Wapentake, from all the jurisdictions and {inlands} which the King has there, belong to the church of Grantham.

LIN CK25

[GRAFFOE Wapentake]

Osbern, the King's officer, claims 1 carucate of land in THURLBY which by the Wapentake's witness he ought to have and to render the jurisdiction in Eagle, Countess Judith's manor.

LIN CK26

Drogo of la Beuvrière claims 10 bovates of land, a jurisdiction, in THURLBY against Osbern of Arques, but the Wapentake says that he is claiming them wrongfully.

LIN CK27

Concerning the claim which the Abbot of Westminster makes against Baldwin [of Flanders] about the land and jurisdiction of Aelric son of Mergeat, they say that they heard that the same Aelric gave it to St Peter's, but they do not know whether [it was] the whole or the half. However, they say that in HADDINGTON there are 8 1/2 carucates of land, a jurisdiction and {inland} of Doddington, in [South] HYKEHAM 4 carucates of land, a jurisdiction of Doddington, in SKELLINGTHORPE 12 carucates, a jurisdiction of Doddington, and in WHISBY 6 carucates of land, {inland} and a jurisdiction of Doddington. The Abbot of Westminster claims the whole of this because the head manor was given to St Peter's. All the County bears witness in favour of St Peter's.

LIN CK28

The Wapentake says that Kofse had 10 bovates of land and 1 rq church in the jurisdiction of Thorpe[-on-the-Hill].

LIN CK29

The Wapentake says that Siward, not Ulf [Fenman] - Swartbrand's father -, had the manor of 4 carucates of land in NORTH HYKEHAM, and therefore his claim is not right.

LIN CK30

[`ASWARDHURN' Wapentake]

They say that the 6 bovates of land in AUSTHORPE which were Godric's and now are Martin <of Woughton>'s, ought to be {inland} of Ewerby.

LIN CK31

Ralph Paynel claims against Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] in HECKINGTON 6 bovates, land which was Algar the deacon's. The Wapentake says that <377b>

Merleswein, Ralph's predecessor, did not have it.

LIN CK32

In QUARRINGTON Waldin the Breton claims 14 bovates of land against the Abbot of Ramsey, but the Wapentake says that he does not claim it rightly.

LIN CK33

Also in QUARRINGTON Bishop Remigius claims that he held Arnketil's land in pledge, but [Arnketil] denies this and holds from the King.

LIN CK34

Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] claims 2 bovates of land and 1 garden against the King in KIRKBY[-la-Thorpe] from Earl Morcar's land which Thorkil held. The Wapentake says that both that the jurisdiction was Earl Morcar's and [that] this land does not lie in another manor.

LIN CK35

In INGOLDSBY Robert Malet claims jurisdiction over 4 bovates of land which Gilbert of Ghent has. The Wapentake says that Robert himself ought to have it through Azur, his predecessor.

LIN CK36

[LOVEDEN Wapentake]

In CAYTHORPE hundred Gilbert of Ghent claims against Robert of Vessey the meadow which was Aelric [son of Mergeat]'s, his predecessor, but the Wapentake says that the same Aelric had the whole meadow, and Gilbert's predecessor did not have anything of it except by renting it for money.

LIN CK37

The Wapentake testifies that the tithe and the other customary dues of CARLTON [Scroop] lie in the church of the same village.

LIN CK38

In [Long] BENNINGTON Count Alan claims 10 bovates of land, but the Wapentake says that they belong to Carlton [Scroop], William of Warenne's manor, and that Earl Harold, his predecessor, had them thus.

LIN CK39

The Bishop of Durham claims 2 bovates of land in MARSTON from Thorfridh's land. Concerning this, they say that Northmann gave Thorfridh himself 3 gold marks for this land before 1066, and after 1066 he gave a fourth mark.

LIN CK40

[AVELAND Wapentake]

The men of Aveland Wapentake testify that the manor [of] BOURNE was Earl Morcar's before 1066. Now Oger [the Breton] has it from the King. Drogo [of la Beuvrière] claims it, but wrongfully.

LIN CK41

The Wapentake says that the 3 1/2 bovates which Oger [the Breton] has in DYKE lie in Haconby and are by rights Heppo the bowman's.

LIN CK42

They say that 1 carucate of land in MORTON, {inland}, and 1 1/2 bovates in HANTHORPE, a jurisdiction, belong to Haconby, and were there before 1066 and [that] Leofric had them.

LIN CK43

They say that also in MORTON St Benedict's of Ramsey ought to have 1/2 carucate of land with full jurisdiction. Oger [the Breton] holds it wrongfully.

LIN CK44

They say that in HACONBY Oger [the Breton] holds wrongfully 9 bovates of land because Gilbert of Ghent ought to have them through Ulf Fenman, his predecessor, who had them before 1066.

LIN CK45

The Wapentake says that Healfdene [son of Topi]'s land in DUNSBY, which Bishop Remigius holds and the Abbot of Peterborough claims, was not St Peter's before 1066.

LIN CK46

In RIPPINGALE Oger [the Breton] holds 1 carucate of land which the Wapentake says was Robert of Tosny's predecessor's.

LIN CK47

They say that Osfram's land in KIRKBY [Underwood] was not in Arnbiorn <of `Avethorpe'>'s jurisdiction.

LIN CK48

They say that St Guthlac's [of Crowland] land which Oger [the Breton] holds in RIPPINGALE was lordship revenue of the monks, and that Abbot Ulfkil assigned it to Hereward [the Wake] at a revenue as might be

<377c>

agreed between them each year, but the Abbot repossessed it before Hereward fled from the country because he had not held to the agreement.

LIN CK49

They say that the jurisdiction of 3 carucates of land in DOWSBY, which Osfram had in pledge and was later redeemed, ought to lie in Rippingale, St Guthlac's [of Crowland] manor. They say it was thus before 1066 and later until Guy of Craon took possession of it.

LIN CK50

The claims which Drogo of la Beuvrière makes on the lands of [Earl] Morcar they leave to the King's judgement.

LIN CK51

They say that Robert of Stafford wrongfully claims Karli's land in BILLINGBOROUGH because the same Karli held it from Ralph the constable.

LIN CK52

They say that Wulfric Wilde's land in WALCOT hundred ought to be half the Bishop of Durham's, and half that of a certain man Wulfgeat who has it in alms from the King.

LIN CK53

Ralph Paynel claims full jurisdiction over Aelfric [son of Godram]'s land which Guy of Craon has in OSBOURNBY. The Wapentake says that the same Ralph ought to have 1 horse from this land whenever he goes on a [military] expedition

LIN CK54

In PICKWORTH there are 2 carucates of land which were Auti's and now are Kolsveinn [of Lincoln]'s. They are not in the count of any hundred and do not have their like in Lincolnshire.

LIN CK55

[THREO Wapentake]

Concerning Thori [son of Roald]'s land in [Old] SOMERBY which Walter of Aincourt has, they say that before 1066 they saw the same Thori have it, but in 1066 Northmann held it in pledge. The men of the Wapentake do not know on what basis because they have not seen him perform any service for it.

LIN CK56

They say that the tithe and other customs [due] to the church from Thori [son of Roald]'s land in ROPSLEY hundred belong to St Peter's church [of Ropsley].

LIN CK57

Walter of Aincourt claims the service of Guy of Raimbeaucourt's men in the manor of SYSTON, but he does not have a just claim.

LIN CK58

In WELBY hundred Drogo [of la Beuvrière] claims 4 carucates of land against Guy of Craon, but the Wapentake bears witness in favour of Guy that they are rightly his.

LIN CK59

They say that Walter of Aincourt ought not to have 1/2 carucate of land which he claims against the King in BELTON, but the King [ought to have it].

LIN CK60

Also in BELTON Kolgrim [of Grantham] ought to have 1 bovat of land of Algar's land which Guy of Craon has, but the jurisdiction belongs to Guy in `Towthorpe'.

LIN CK61

They say that before 1066 Leofric the noble withheld the {warnode} of 10 acres of meadow also in BELTON. Kolgrim [of Grantham] claims the jurisdiction of these 10 acres.

LIN CK62

They say that the whole of the customs [due] to the church and the tithe from `WESTHORPE' belong to the church of Grantham, as Bishop Osmund claims.

LIN CK63

In HONINGTON hundred Gilbert [of Ghent] claims the jurisdiction of 2 1/2 carucates of land through his predecessor Ulf [Fenman], but the Wapentake says that Ivo [Tallboys] ought to have the jurisdiction as Azur, his predecessor, had it from Ulf.

LIN CK64

Robert of Stafford claims 2 mills which are in BARKSTON, and Kolsveinn [of Lincoln] likewise claims them. The Wapentake says that they lie in Marston and their jurisdiction in Grantham.

[Claims in Holland]

LIN CK65

[KIRTON Wapentake]

In DRAYTON hundred Count Alan has 1 carucate of land from St Benedict's of Ramsey. Bishop Remigius claims it and the Wapentake bears witness in favour of him that [Bishop] Wulfwy, his predecessor, held it from St Benedict's before 1066.

LIN CK66

Guy of Craon holds 4 bovates of land in DRAYTON and 10 bovates in BICKER hundred from the land of Aethelstan son of Godram. Count Alan claims these, and Algar, his man, has given a pledge to the King's barons to establish by court-judgement or by combat that Aethelstan himself was not in possession of these 14 bovates before 1066. Against this Guy's man, Alstan of Frampton, has given his pledge to prove that he was in possession of them with full jurisdiction, and that Guy was in possession of them from the time of Ralph the constable until now, and he holds them now.

LIN CK67

The men of Holland testify that Healfdene [son of Topi], Bishop Remigius's predecessor, had in STEYNING 3 carucates of land without interference which Count Alan now has and [has] wrongfully because the Bishop was in possession of them.

LIN CK68

Alfred of Lincoln claims 1 carucate of land in QUADRING against Count Alan. The men of Holland agree with the same Alfred both that it was his predecessor's, and [that] he himself was in possession of it in the time of Earl Ralph.

LIN CK69

Gyrth <of Quadring>, Count Alan's man, gave a pledge to affirm that Count Alan's predecessor had 6 bovates of land with full jurisdiction in GOSBERTON and therefore Guy of Craon does not claim them rightly.

LIN CK70

[ELLOE Wapentake]

The men of Holland testify [that] the jurisdiction of Ketil of Sutton's monastery of [Long] Sutton lies in the King's manor of Tydd [St Mary].

LIN CK71

The 6 carucates of land which the King's officers claim in HOLBEACH lay in the King's manor of Gedney. Now Count Alan has them as one manor by the King's gift.

1 LANDS OF THE KING

ESS 1,1
Hundred of BARSTABLE
[Earl] Harold held BENFLEET before 1066 as one manor, for 8 hides.
Now Ranulf brother of Ilger has charge of this manor, in the King's hands.
Then 12 villagers, now 21; always 6 smallholders. Then 3 slaves,
now 3.
Then 3 ploughs in lordship, now 2. Then 11 men's ploughs,

now 5.

Woodland, 30 acres; pasture for 130 sheep; 1/2 mill.

Then it was valued at £8; now it pays £12, but however it is only valued at £8.

In this manor there was at that time a free man with 1/2 hide, who has now been made one of the villagers; he is in the above reckoning.

1/2 hide of this manor was given before 1066 to a church of another manor; but after this manor came into the King's lordship, it was taken from the church, and again lies in the [lands of the] manor.

In the whole of this Hundred the King has 18 free men, who hold 1/2 hide and 49 acres and pasture for 20 sheep. It is valued at 10s.

In the lordship of the above manor 1 cob, 1 ass, 30 pigs, 70 sheep.

[1 Lands of the King. King William holds it]

ESS 1,2

Half-Hundred of WITHAM

[Earl] Harold held WITHAM before 1066 as 1 manor, for 5 hides. Now Peter the sheriff has charge of this manor, in the King's hands.

Then 2 ploughs in lordship, now 3.

Then 21 villagers, now 15; then 9 smallholders, now 10; then 6 slaves, now 9; then 23 Freemen, now the same.

Then 18 men's ploughs, now 7; this loss was in the time of sheriffs Swein [of Essex] and [Ralph] Baynard, and through the cattle plague.

Woodland, 150 pigs; meadow, 30 acres; pasture which then paid 6d, now 14d; always 1 mill.

The aforesaid [23] Freemen, who have 2 ploughs, hold 2 hides and 1 virgate. Then, in total, value £10; now £20, but the sheriff receives from it £34 between his customary dues and the pleas of the Half-Hundred, and £4 in gifts.

<2a>

In the lordship of this manor Peter acquired 4 [***], 24 cattle, 136 pigs and 101 sheep; now, wholly the same.

Attached to this manor before 1066 were 34 free men who then paid 10s as a customary due, and 11d. Ilbod [brother of Arnulf of Hesdin] holds 2 of them with 45 acres, value 6s; they pay their customary due to the manor. Theodric Pointel [holds] 8, with 1/2 hide and 22 1/2 acres, who pay the customary due; value 20s. Ranulf Peverel [holds] 10, with 2 hides and 45 acres, who do not pay the customary due; value 15s. William son of Gross [holds] 5, with 1 hide and 15 acres, 1 only pays the customary due; value £3 13s. Ralph Baynard [holds] 6, with 1/2 hide and 35 acres, 1 pays the customary due; value 20s. Haimo the steward [holds] 1, with 1/2 hide, and he pays the customary due; value 20s. Jocelyn the lorimer has the land of one and does not pay the customary due, namely 1 hide which the monks of St Etheldreda's of Ely claim; the Hundred testifies for them for half [of it], but they know nothing of the other part; value then 100s, now 60s; when Jocelyn acquired it, 100s. In total, value before 1066 £14 less 2s; now £12 9s.

[1 Lands of the King. King William holds it]

ESS 1,3

Half-Hundred of HARLOW

[Earl] Harold held HATFIELD [Broad Oak] before 1066 as 1 manor, for 20 hides.

Then 51 villagers, now 60; then 19 smallholders, now 30;
then 20 slaves, now 22.

Then 9 ploughs in lordship, now 8.

3 cobs, 40 cattle, 195 pigs and 200 sheep less 7.

Then 40 men's ploughs, now 31 1/2; this loss was in the time of all of the sheriffs and through the cattle plague.

Woodland, 800 pigs; meadow, 120 acres; pasture which pays 9 wethers in the manor; 41 acres of arable land.

<2b>

To the church of this manor belonged 1 hide and 30 acres, which Swein [of Essex] took away after he lost the sheriffdom; this land paid the customary due to this manor.

Before 1066, there also belonged to this manor 1 Freeman with 1/2 hide, whom G[eoffrey] de Mandeville took away; attached to this land is 1 villager with 1 acre which Count E[ustace] holds, value 4d.

Also 30 acres which a smith, who was put to death on account of robbery, held before 1066, and the King's reeve added that land to this manor; also 40 acres of woodland which King Edward's reeve held; of which land and woodland Osmund of Anjou dispossessed the King's reeve and the manor. Robert Gernon now holds it.

1/2 hide which 1 Freeman held before 1066; Robert Gernon also holds this.

Apart from this, 3 outliers were attached to this manor before

1066, HERTFORD, AMWELL and HODDESDON, which lie in Hertfordshire, [and] which Ralph of Limèsy now holds.

Also 1 Freeman with 30 acres who always belonged to this manor.

Value of the manor then £36; now £60, but the [Ralph the] sheriff receives £80 from it, and 100s in gifts. Also the value then of the 3 outliers £12, the Freeman's land 45s. Woodland, 40 pigs.

Later on we recovered 1/2 hide which 1 Freeman of [Earl] Harold's held before 1066; now Ralph of Marcy holds it in Haimo [the steward]'s Holding.

Value then 10s; now 7[s].

Woodland, 500 pigs; meadow, 100 acres; now 1 mill.

2 cobs, 10 cattle, 160 pigs and 269 sheep.

Attached to this manor before 1066 were 4 free men with 4 hides

<3a>

who paid the customary due. Now Robert son of Corbucion holds 3 hides and Hugh de Montfort the fourth hide, and they have not paid the customary due since they have had them. And besides, Robert also holds 4 1/2 hides which 1 free man held in this manor before 1066.

Also associated was 1 Freeman with 30 acres who paid the customary due; John son of Waleran now holds him.

Value of this manor before 1066 £36; now [£]40; Peter the sheriff receives from it £80 in dues and £10 in gifts.

To this manor belong 20 acres which lie in Loughton [and] which [Earl] Harold's reeve held before 1066; now the King's reeve holds them. Value 40d.

Hundred of UTTLESFORD

Earl Edgar held [Great] CHESTERFORD before 1066 as 1 manor, for 10 hides. Now Picot the sheriff [holds it], in the King's hands. Always 4 ploughs in lordship. Then 18 men's ploughs; later and now 14.

Always 24 villagers; 13 smallholders; 6 slaves.

Woodland, 1000 pigs; meadow, 15 acres; always 2 mills.
1 1/2 hides which are in Cambridgeshire are an adjunct of this manor.
Always 7 villagers; 3 smallholders; a mill; 3 men's ploughs.
Value of the whole then £24; later and now [£]30.
In the lordship of this manor are 2 cobs, 7 cattle, 61 pigs,
81 sheep and 87 goats.
Attached to this manor before 1066 were 1 1/2 hides which Hardwin of Scales holds, but the Hundred does not know how; 1/2 hide was of lordship [land] in which 1 man dwelt; 1 Freeman who paid suit in the King's manor held the other hide.
Also Picot [the sheriff] holds
1/2 hide which 1 Freeman held before 1066. In these 2 hides, 2 ploughs.
Value 40s.

In MALDON the King has 1 house and pasture for 100 sheep. 1 Freeman with 49 acres who has 1 smallholder. Before 1066, 1 plough; now 1/2. Value then 10s; now 5[s].

In the same [Maldon] the King has 180 houses which burgesses hold and 18 unoccupied messuages; 15 of them hold 1/2 hide and 21 acres, and the other men do not hold more than their houses in the Borough; between them they have 12 cobs, 140 cattle, 103 pigs and 336 sheep.
<6a>

From the King's hall have always come 6s 8d, and from Swein [of Essex]'s land 4s; and from 2 of Eudo the steward's houses 16d, which the King has not had since he came to this land.

From the aforesaid Freeman, Ranulf Peverel had a customary due each year for 3s; but before 1066 his predecessor had nothing except for patronage.

Before 1066 the whole together paid £13 2s; when Peter [the sheriff] acquired it £24; now £16 by weight.

Then 2 ploughs in lordship, later and now 1. Then and later among the men 8 ploughs, now 10.
Woodland, 100 pigs; meadow, 24 acres; always 2 mills.
10 cattle, 1 cob, 79 pigs, 102 sheep.
Then it paid [a revenue of] 2 nights' provisions.
There is besides 1 outlier which lies in Cambridgeshire and is called [Great] SHELFORD, with 3 hides and 46 acres.
Always 8 villagers; 5 smallholders; 1 plough in lordship;
2 men's ploughs.
Meadow, 15 acres. Then 1 cob, now none; always 10 cattle.
Then 80 pigs, now 50; then 80 sheep, now 87; then 13
goats, now 24.
This outlier was in the above-mentioned revenue before 1066, but it now pays £25 16s. Robert Gernon holds 2 Freemen with 2 1/2 hides who belong to this manor and who pay all customary dues, whom he received when Swein [of Essex] was sheriff. The Hundred does not know how he should have them, because neither a writ nor a commissioner came on the King's behalf to the Hundred [to say] that the King had given himself that land.
A cleric of Count E[ustace] had annexed 42 acres and held them in Count E[ustace]'s Holding, but the Hundred testifies that they [belong] to Newport, so the King now has them; the cleric is judged to be in the King's mercy regarding both all his property and his body.
